Subj: COT Report

I am an individual trader, my trading depend also on the COT report as it assist me in making market decisions.

In response to CFTC request for comments about the COT report, I expect and support all improvements as all trading business environment has made considerable progress recently.

As we live in 21. century not 19., I really don't understand why CTFC even think whether it should stop publishing the COT reports and hide this kind of data from public.

I urge and beg you to continue publishing the reports.

They are very valuable tool for us in this growing futures market.

Best regards
