COMMENT

Dear Jean,

My name is Matt Tracy I'm a farmer from Central Illinois. I wanted to let you know that I'm against raising the trade limits at the CBOT. I do not fully understand the markets and how the limits at the CBOT affect them. I'm trying to learn more about the CBOT and how it works. It seems to me is that the markets go down the limits more often than they go up the limits. Now I know that for a lot of people that means they are making money, but for me it means I'm losing money. The CBOT and their margins scare me now if they are raised (by raising the limits) I do not know how I will hedge my crops. Thank you for taking the time to read my views.
