Subject: COT Reports.....

2006 JUL 14 PM 1:03

OFC. OF THE SECRETARIAT

Dear Mam,

For the first time in many years I have finally started to make money in the commodity and currency markets. The only way I have been finally able to do that is by having access to the weekly COT Reports. I would feel very distressed if these reports were suddenly now denied me. I understand that you are not required to publish them but I feel your service is highly warranted and does actually level the playing field for someone such as myself. Yes, of course markets and market participants change and evolve over time, that is the very nature of 'progress', however it is up to us to evolve with it and maybe find new methods to interpret and analyse the data that you supply. If you take away that chance we are again faced with the 'us and them' situation of those with the money against individuals with limited funds who dream of the chance that with hard work and due diligence we can also make our way in this business. I really hope this is not just a cry in the wilderness.

Yours sincerely

Neil Bowler (erstwhile trader)
