The Contracts are margined “future-style” and have an earlier exercise time on the expiration day than the existing “equity-style” margined coal options. On expiration day, the options will cease trading at 12:30 p.m. London time. The Exchange will auto-exercise the options with reference to the intraday price assessments for coal markets provided by the London Energy Brokers’ Association (“LEBA”). Participants will have the possibility to submit contra-instructions in accordance with the Exchange rules up to 2:30 p.m. London time on expiration day.

The Exchange is also notifying the CFTC that it is self-certifying the insertion of the terms and conditions for the contracts into the Position Limit, Position Accountability and Reportable Level Table and Header Notes located in the Interpretations and Special Notices Section of Chapter 5 of the NYMEX Rulebook in relation to the listing of the new contracts. The terms and conditions establish the all month/any one-month accountability levels, expiration month position limit, reportable level, and aggregation allocation for the new contract. Please see Appendix B, attached under separate cover.

NYMEX is also notifying the CFTC that it is self-certifying block trading on the contracts with a minimum block threshold of 5 contracts. The block levels are consistent with the Exchange’s similar existing products.

The Exchange reviewed the designated contracts market core principles (“Core Principles”) as set forth in the Commodity Exchange Act (“CEA” or “Act”) and identified that the Contracts may have some bearing on the following Core Principles:

Compliance with Rules: Trading in the Contracts will be subject to the rules in Rulebook Chapter 4 which includes prohibitions against fraudulent, noncompetitive, unfair and abusive practices. Additionally, trading in these contracts will also be subject to the full panoply of trade practice rules, the majority of which are contained in Chapter 5 and Chapter 8 of the Rulebook. As with all products listed for trading on one of CME Group’s designated contract markets, activity in the new products will be subject to extensive monitoring and surveillance by CME Group’s Market Regulation Department. The Market Regulation

Department has the authority to exercise its investigatory and enforcement power where potential rule violations are identified.

Contract Not Readily Subject to Manipulation: The Contract is based on a cash price series that is reflective of the underlying cash market and is commonly relied on and used as a reference price by cash market brokers and commercial market participants.

Prevention of Market Disruption: Trading in the Contracts will be subject to Rulebook Chapters 4 and 7 which include prohibitions on manipulation, price distortion and disruptions of the delivery or cash-settlement process. As with all products listed for trading on one of CME Group's designated contract markets, activity in the new products will be subject to extensive monitoring and surveillance by CME Group's Market Regulation Department.

Position Limitations or Accountability: The speculative position limits for the Contracts as demonstrated in this submission are consistent with the Commission's guidance.

Availability of General Information: The Exchange will publish information on the Contracts' specifications on its website, together with daily trading volume, open interest and price information. In addition, the Exchange will advise the marketplace of the launch of the Contracts by releasing a Special Executive Report ("SER"). The SER will also be posted on CME Group's website.

Daily Publication of Trading Information: The Exchange shall make public daily information on settlement prices, volume, open interest, and opening and closing ranges for actively traded contracts on the contract market.

Execution of Transactions: The Contracts will be listed for trading on the CME Globex electronic trading and for clearing through CME ClearPort. The CME Globex trading venue provides for competitive and open execution of transactions. CME Globex affords the benefits of reliability and global connectivity.

Trade Information: All required trade information is included in the audit trail and is sufficient for the Market Regulation Department to monitor for market abuse.

Financial Integrity of Contract: All contracts traded on the Exchange will be cleared by the CME Clearing House which is a registered derivatives clearing organization with the Commission and is subject to all Commission regulations related thereto.

Protection of Market Participants: Rulebook Chapters 4 and 5 contain multiple prohibitions precluding intermediaries from disadvantaging their customers. These rules apply to trading on all of the Exchange's competitive trading venues and will be applicable to transactions in these products.

Disciplinary Procedures: Chapter 4 of the Rulebook contains provisions that allow the Exchange to discipline, suspend or expel members or market participants that violate the rules. Trading in these contracts will be subject to Chapter 4, and the Market Regulation Department has the authority to exercise its enforcement power in the event rule violations in these products are identified.

Dispute Resolution: Disputes with respect to trading in the Contracts will be subject to the arbitration provisions set forth in Chapter 6 of the Rulebook. The rules in Chapter 6 allow all nonmembers to submit a claim for financial losses resulting from transactions on the Exchange to arbitration. A member named as a respondent in a claim submitted by a nonmember is required to participate in the arbitration pursuant to the rules in Chapter 6. Additionally, the Exchange requires that members resolve all disputes concerning transactions on the Exchange via arbitration.

Pursuant to Section 5c(c) of the Act and CFTC Regulations 40.2(a), the Exchange hereby certifies that listing the Contracts complies with the Act, including regulations under the Act. There were no substantive opposing views to the proposal.

The Exchange certifies that this submission has been concurrently posted on the CME Group website at <http://www.cmegroup.com/market-regulation/rule-filings.html>.

Should you have any questions concerning the above, please contact the undersigned at (212) 299-2200 or via e-mail at CMEGSubmissionInquiry@cmegroup.com.

Sincerely,

/s/ Christopher Bowen
Managing Director and Chief Regulatory Counsel

Cash Market Overview and Analysis of Deliverable Supply

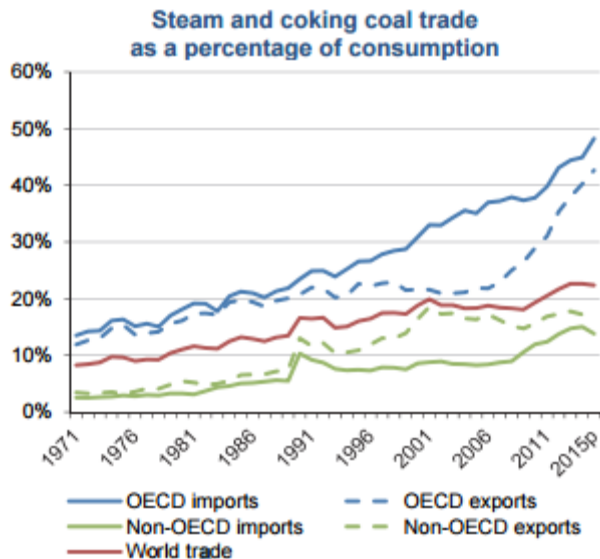

CASH MARKET OVERVIEW

Coal as a Traded Commodity

Coal is a combustible sedimentary rock mainly composed of carbon along with a range of other elements such as hydrogen, sulfur, oxygen and nitrogen. Coal has been used as an energy source throughout history. Coal is naturally occurring in rock strata and is extracted from the ground by mining.

There are two primary classifications of coal that are traded internationally. Coking coal, or metallurgical coal, is used in the production of steel. Steam coal, or thermal coal, is used in the production of electrical power. With its higher carbon content, and lower levels of impurities, coking coal can be considered the superior class, and typically trades at a premium to steam coal

Thermal coal, also known as steam coal, is a globally traded commodity. Thermal coal is burned to generate electricity. Coal is usually transported by truck, train or barge within the domestic markets, but for international trade, dry-bulk seaborne vessels are used, primarily handysize, panamax, and capesize vessels. International trade has played an increasing role to meet local coal demand, as may be seen from below chart¹:

Some sub-bituminous coal prior to 1978 is unintentionally excluded.
Calculations are based on energy, not tonnage.

The two major thermal coal markets are the Atlantic and Pacific markets. In the Atlantic, the main importers are Western European countries, such as the UK, Germany and Spain. In the Pacific market, import demand comes mainly from Japan, China, South Korea and Taiwan. India is also a major importer from both Atlantic and Pacific suppliers. Tables 1,2 and 3 show the world's most important coal producing, exporting and importing countries:

North West Europe Coal Market

The API 2 coal index is a price assessment for steam coal in North West Europe. North West Europe is an active market for coal, with the ports of Amsterdam, Rotterdam and Antwerp (“ARA”) being the major pricing reference point and Europe’s largest coal import hub. The European Sea Ports Organisation collates port throughput data for European ports. Import data for coal at these ports is shown in Table 4.

ANALYSIS OF DELIVERABLE SUPPLY

The Exchange is planning to launch four new options contracts. For the purposes of assessing position limits, the existing spot month position limits for the API2 and API4 futures contracts, into which these new options shall aggregate for position limit/position accountability level purposes, remain below 25% of estimated deliverable supply as indicated below. Positions in the new API 2 option contracts (F2C and F2Q) will be aggregated into positions for the corresponding underlying futures contract, i.e. the Coal (API2) CIF ARA (ARGUS-McCloskey) Futures (commodity code MTF, NYMEX rule chapter 926). Positions in the new API 4 option contracts (F4C and F4Q) will be aggregated into positions in the Coal (API4) FOB Richards Bay (ARGUS-McCloskey) Futures (commodity code MFF, NYMEX rule chapter 928). Please note that the options herein are set to expire 30 calendar days prior to the first calendar day of the first calendar month in the strip of deliverable futures.

The API 2 coal price assessment is for steam coal available in the North West Europe region. The Exchange's analysis of deliverable supply is based on the production and imports amounts reported by EIA. Table 5 shows total coal production in the North West Europe region, with bituminous coal shown separately where relevant. Out of the region, coal is only mined in Germany and the UK. Table 5 above shows that production of bituminous coal in the region was on average 17.9 million short tons per annum for the period 2012-2014 (4.6m ST produced in Germany and 13.3m ST produced in the UK). One short ton is the equivalent of 0.9072 metric tons, therefore this production figure is the equivalent of 16.3 million metric tons. Table 5 also shows that North West Europe coal imports were on average 173.4 million short tons per annum across the region in the time period 2012-2014. This figure represents all types of coal. The data in Table 6 shows that of these imports, steam coal – represented as 'Other Bituminous Coal' - is 78% of the total during the period 2012-2014 and 79% during the period 2013-2015. We calculate steam coal imports as 78% of 173.4 million short tons, or 134.9 million short tons. In metric tons, this is equivalent to 122.4 million metric tons. The deliverable supply can therefore be assessed as the sum of production and import volumes, which is 138.7 million metric tons per annum for the period 2012-2014 (122.4m MT import plus 16.3m MT production). This is equivalent to 11.6 million metric tons per calendar month. The contract size of the Coal (API2) CIF ARA (ARGUS-McCloskey) Futures contract is 1,000 metric tons. The spot month position limit for the futures contract, which is set at 2,000 lots, or the equivalent of 2.0 million metric tons per calendar month, represents 17.2% of the estimated deliverable supply.

The API 4 coal price assessment is for steam coal exported from South Africa. The Exchange's analysis of deliverable supply is based on the South African production amounts reported by EIA. Whilst South Africa has a substantial internal consumption of steam coal, there is also a substantial export market, and all domestic supply can be considered available to be deliverable into an export contract. Table 7 above shows that production of bituminous coal in South Africa was on average 279.4 million short tons per annum for the period 2012-2014. One short ton is the equivalent of 0.9072 metric tons, therefore this production figure is the equivalent of 253.5 million metric tons.

Given the relatively large domestic supply for coal, it is anticipated that South African imports are for specific purposes, and therefore unlikely to be available for re-export. The deliverable supply can therefore be assessed as the production volumes, which is 253.5 million metric tons per annum for the period 2012-2014. This is the equivalent of 21.1 million metric tons per calendar month. The contract size of the Coal (API4) FOB Richards Bay (ARGUS-McCloskey) Futures contract is 1,000 metric tons. The spot month position limit for the futures contract, which is set at 2,500 lots, or the equivalent of 2.5 million metric tons per calendar month, represents 11.8% of the estimated deliverable supply.
