have been illegally operating a foreign currency trading firm out of San Diego, California. Through direct solicitations and a website, defendants have solicited retail customers to trade purported foreign currency contracts and foreign currency options contracts. Defendants have solicited a minimum of $650,000 in customer funds from at least three customers, and upon information and belief, have solicited millions of additional dollars from hundreds of retail customers for purposes of purportedly trading foreign currency and foreign currency options contracts.

2. To lure customers to trade with White Pine, defendants fraudulently misrepresented how customers money would be handled and protected, claiming all customer money would be held in a segregated account and not in White Pine's operating accounts, when in fact defendants commingled customer money with other monies in at least two corporate operating accounts. Defendants falsely touted the expertise and sophistication of White Pine in trading foreign currency when defendants had little or no experience trading in the foreign currency markets, and blatantly posted a false winning trading record for White Pine going back to 1995 even though, by defendants' own admission, White Pine was created no earlier than 2000.

3. Defendants' Matthews and White Pine have misappropriated customer funds. Defendants deposit customer funds into White Pine operating accounts, which Matthews then used for purported business expenses and for personal purposes, including paying for purchases from Saks Fifth Avenue, Royal Maui Jewelers, Justflowers.com, Hooters' restaurant, and The Men's Warehouse. Moreover, checks for large sums of money drawn from these same accounts were made payable to Matthews personally. In one two-month period in 2004, Matthews cashed checks payable to himself totaling more than $230,000 from a single operating account. During his tenure at White Pine, Baere received approximately $400,000 in cash from one White Pine account in which Matthews had deposited customer funds.

4. White Pine has opened and conducted business through at least six separate bank accounts during its existence. Four of these bank accounts show total deposits of over $33 million from 2001 through 2004.

5. In an attempt to hide this massive fraud and illegal operation, White Pine destroyed documents responsive to a Commission subpoena and defendant Matthews lied to the federal government. When questioned under oath by staff of the Division of Enforcement of the plaintiff Commodity Futures Trading Commission about White Pine's activities, defendant Matthews falsely testified that White Pine was not soliciting customers, had no customers and held no customer funds. Defendant Matthews also claimed that White Pine's website represented a business development proposal that had not been acted upon and was, in his own words, "fictitious."

6. Through the conduct described above, defendant Matthews has engaged in misappropriation and the fraudulent solicitation of customer funds and, consequently, violated Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b) (2002), and Commission Regulations 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c) (2004).

7. Through the conduct described above, defendant Baere has engaged in the fraudulent solicitation of customer funds and, consequently, violated Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7
U.S.C. § 6c(b) (2002), and Commission Regulations 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c) (2004).

8. Because defendants Baere and Matthews were acting as an officer, agent or employee in engaging the engaging conduct alleged above, White Pine is vicariously liable for violations of Section 4c(b) of the Act, and Commission Regulation 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c) pursuant to Section 2(a)(1)(B) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 2(a)(1)(B) (2002).

9. Because the foreign currency options transactions White Pine purports to offer are not conducted on or subject to the rules of a designated contract market or foreign board of trade, White Pine, through its agents and representatives, is engaged in soliciting, or accepting any order for, or otherwise dealing in, illegal off-exchange options contracts in violation of Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b) (2002), and Commission Regulation 32.11(a), 17 C.F.R. § 32.11(a) (2004).

10. Accordingly, pursuant to Section 6c(a) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 13a-1 (2002), plaintiff, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("Commission") brings this action to enjoin the unlawful acts and practices of defendants White Pine and Matthews, and to compel their compliance with the provisions of the Act and Regulations thereunder. In addition, the Commission seeks restitution, disgorgement, civil penalties, an accounting and such other equitable relief as the Court may deem necessary or appropriate.

Π.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11. The Commodity Exchange Act, as amended, 7 U.S.C. § 1 et seq. (the "Act"), prohibits fraud in connection with the trading of commodity futures contracts and options and establishes a comprehensive system for regulating the purchase and sale of such futures contracts and options. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to Section 6c of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 13a-1, which authorizes the Commission to seek injunctive relief against any person whenever it shall appear that such person has engaged, is engaging, or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of the Act or any rule, regulation or order thereunder. In addition, Section 2(c)(2)(B) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 2(c)(2)(B), confers upon the Commission jurisdiction over certain retail transactions in foreign currency for future delivery, options on foreign currency futures contracts, and options on foreign currency, including the transactions alleged in this complaint.

12. Venue properly lies with this Court pursuant to Section 6c(e) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 13a-1(e) (2002), in that defendants are found in, inhabit, or transact business in this district, and the acts and practices in violation of the Act have occurred, are occurring, or are about to occur within this district, among other places.

STATUTORY BACKGROUND

18. Section 2(c)(2)(B)(i)-(ii) of the Act provides that the Commission shall have jurisdiction over an agreement, contract or transaction in foreign currency that is a sale of a commodity for future delivery, or an option on such futures contract or an option on foreign currency, and is "offered to, or entered into with, a person that is not an eligible contract participant, unless the counterparty, or the person offering to be the counterparty, of the person is" a regulated entity, as defined therein. 7 U.S.C. § 2(c)(2)(B)(i)-(ii) (2002) (emphasis added). Generally speaking, eligible counterparties include financial institutions, broker dealers and their associated persons, futures commission merchants and their affiliated persons, insurance companies and their regulated subsidiaries or affiliates, financial holding companies and investment bank holding companies. 7 U.S.C. §2(c)(2)(B)(ii)(I)-(VI). Section 2(c)(2)(B)(i)-(ii) of the Act was enacted by Congress as part of the Commodity Futures Modernization Act of 2000 ("CFMA") in an effort "to clarify the jurisdiction of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission over certain retail foreign exchange transactions and bucket shops that may not be otherwise regulated." CFMA § 2(5), Pub. L. No. 106-554, 114 Stat, 2763 (2000).

19. Section 1a(12)(A)(xi) of the Act defines an "eligible contract participant" as, inter alia, an individual who has total assets exceeding: (a) $10 million; or (b) $5,000,000 and who enters into the agreement, contract, or transaction in order to manage the risk associated with an asset owned or liability incurred, or reasonably likely to be owned or incurred by the individual. 7 U.S.C. § 1a(12)(A)(xi) (2002).

20. Section 4c(b) of the Act provides that it shall be unlawful for any person to offer to enter into, enter into, to execute, to confirm the execution of, or conduct an office or business in the United States for the purpose of soliciting, accepting any order for, or otherwise dealing in transactions in, or in connection with, a commodity option, contrary to any rule, regulation, or order of the Commission prohibiting such transaction or allowing any such transaction under such terms or conditions for different markets. 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b) (2002). Commission Regulation 1.1 prohibits fraud in or in connection with transactions in foreign currency that are subject to the Act. 17 C.F.R. § 1.1 (2004).

V.

FACTS

Defendants Cheat And Defraud Retail Customers

21. White Pine is a foreign currency trading firm operating in the San Diego area. Defendant Matthews is the Founder and Managing Director of White Pine and he conceived of and established White Pine in 2000 as a foreign currency trading firm. Matthews developed the website, www.whitepinetrust.com, and the solicitation materials. Matthews solicited customers at trade shows nation-wide, is a signatory on White Pine's operating accounts, and is responsible for the overall day-to-day operation of White Pine, including handling customer requests for account withdrawals.

22. Defendant Baere is identified variously as the Director of Business Development or the Director of Client Development of White Pine. Baere solicited customers at trade shows nationwide, and, in at least one investor's case, visited the private home of the investor to solicit business. Baere provided customers with the solicitation materials described in paragraphs 24 and 26 and also communicated with customers about the status of their investments.

23. White Pine's website, at least until recently, along with other advertising and solicitation materials provided to potential customers, purport to offer customers the opportunity to speculate in the value of purported foreign currency and foreign currency options. Defendants offer to open and manage customer foreign currency accounts, and promise customers steady returns on their investments while downplaying the risk of loss.

24. Specifically, Baere and Matthews solicit potential customers to invest in White Pine's Pinnacle Capital Fund, both through attending trade shows nationwide and through White Pine's former website. Defendants replicated the promotional materials given to customers on White Pine's website. On both the White Pine website and in other solicitation materials, for the Pinnacle Capital Fund, defendants boast an eight-year cumulative performance record of 591%, while simultaneously guaranteeing that 75% of its customers' investments are protected from loss each month.

25. Baere and Matthews told one White Pine customer at a September 2002 trade show that their fund had approximately 20-30% return on investment. Based upon profit representations made by Baere and Matthews, this customer invested over $300,000 in White Pine. Baere and Matthews also directed the investor to White Pine's website so that he could monitor his personal account.

26. White Pine's promotional materials also tout the defendants' expertise in managing foreign currency accounts, promising that "your account manager [is] at least on the same educational plateau as corporate treasures (sic) and international bankers."

27. However, in sworn testimony taken on January 29, 2004 before the Division of Enforcement for the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, defendant Matthews unequivocally admitted that White Pine's performance record was fictitious. Matthews also admitted he had little expertise in trading foreign currency and explicitly denied the existence of any customers. In fact, Matthews stated at least five times during this testimony that White Pine was a fictitious company: "Q. So again, this is all fictitious – A. Yes. Absolutely."

28. In the same testimony, Matthews testified at least twice that the same performance record of Pinnacle Capital Fund referenced in paragraph 19 was fictitious: "Q. These are just fictitious numbers? A. Yes. The chronology and everything." White Pine's performance records in its promotional material extend back to 1995, but White Pine was not incorporated or otherwise doing business until at least 2000.

29. Matthews further testified that, contrary to defendants' highly proclaimed expertise in trading foreign currency options, he knew "little about" foreign currency.

30. Matthews also testified that White Pine did not have, and had never had, any customers. In fact, White Pine had at least three customers prior to Matthews' testimony who had invested over $650,000 with defendants, and upon and information and belief, has as many as 300 customers who may have invested up to $33 million with White Pine.

31. In soliciting these customers purportedly to trade foreign currency and foreign currency options on their behalf, first through direct solicitation materials and subsequently by referring the customers to its website, White Pine made the following misrepresentations of material facts:

1	a.	All funds are separated and maintained in a "client funds account" and are not commingled with White Pine's operating accounts;
3	b.	All customer accounts are held outside White Pine at regulated broker dealers;
4	c.	White Pine has been in the business for eight years with a cumulative
5		performance record of 591%, covering the time period of 1995 to 2004; and
7	. d.	White Pine account managers have specialized expertise in trading foreign currency options.
8	32. The	and representations proofs the improvement that White Ding is a logitimate firm
9	52. The	ese representations create the impression that White Pine is a legitimate firm.
10	However, these statements are false, in that:
11	a.	Customer funds are neither separated nor maintained in the clients' name; rather, funds are deposited into operating accounts in White Pine's name
12		or otherwise commingled with other funds, where some funds are
13		misappropriated and used for business and personal expenses;
14	b.	White Pine was not in existence in 1995-1999, since it was incorporated in July 2000; and
15	с.	Matthews has little knowledge of trading foreign currency options.
16	33. In a	a two-month period in 2004, from the same account in which Matthews
17
18	deposited customer funds, Matthews wrote personal checks to himself totaling over $230,000. In
19	another two-month period in 2003, Matthews wrote personal checks to himself totaling over
20	$150,000 from a different operating account. In this same time period and from this same
21	account Matthews wrote other checks for personal expenditures, including a check to Royal Maui
22	Jewelers for $26,883.63 and a check to Neiman Marcus totaling $3,568.72. Matthews also wrote
24	two checks totaling more than $23,000 allegedly to pay for two business trips to Las Vegas,
25	Nevada, and New Orleans, Louisiana. Baere also received approximately $400,000 in cash
26	during his tenure f	rom the same accounts in which Matthews had deposited investor money.
28

34. White Pine customers sent money directly to White Pine. Customers either wired money directly into White Pine's operating accounts, or wrote personal checks made out to White Pine Trust Corporation, which Matthews then deposited into White Pine's operating accounts. Baere and Matthews gave customers promotional materials that referred them to White Pine's website so customers could track their account. Customers also received monthly account statements on White Pine's Pinnacle Capital Fund letterhead. The customer account statements did not indicate the specific trading executed, where the purported trading occurred, or where the customer funds were deposited.

B.

Some Of The Purported Foreign Currency Transactions Defendants Offer Are Illegal Off-Exchange Foreign Currency Options

35. Since at least February 2003, White Pine has engaged in an elaborate scheme to defraud retail customers. White Pine's promotional materials and account opening documents describe an investment opportunity to profit based upon the fluctuations in the relative values of foreign currencies. During the relevant period, through written materials provided to customers and prospective customers, White Pine stated that "We also trade in FX options." The same promotional materials expand upon this statement and explain how White Pine uses options as a hedging strategy purportedly to minimize the investment risk faced by prospective investors.

36. The foreign currency options contracts offered by White Pine have not been conducted or executed on or subject to the rules of a contract market, or a foreign board of trade.
White Pine is not an appropriate counterparty under the Act for the alleged transactions herein, and certain customers solicited by White Pine were not eligible contract participants.

С.

The Relief Defendant Has Received Customer Funds To Which She Is Not Entitled

37. Relief defendant Lucia Matthews is Matthews' wife. Upon information and belief, at no time did Ms. Matthews provide any services to White Pine; however, bank records show that Ms. Matthews received money from a White Pine operating account. Ms. Matthews, therefore, has no legitimate entitlement to or interest in these funds.

VI.

VIOLATIONS OF THE COMMODITY EXCHANGE ACT AND COMMISSION REGULATIONS

COUNT I

VIOLATIONS OF SECTION 4c(b) OF THE ACT AND SECTIONS 1.1 AND 32.9(a) AND (c) OF THE REGULATIONS: FRAUD BY MISAPPROPRIATION AND SOLICITATION

38. Plaintiff re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 37 above and incorporates these allegations herein by reference.

39. In or in connection with an offer to enter into, the entry into, the confirmation of, the execution of, or the maintenance of commodity options transactions, the defendants have cheated, defrauded, or deceived or attempted to cheat, defraud, or deceive, other persons, by misappropriating customer funds, and by making false, deceptive, or misleading representations of material facts and by failing to disclose material facts necessary to make other facts they disclosed not misleading, including but not limited to those statements and omissions identified in paragraphs 21 through 36 above, all in violation of Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b), and Regulations 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c).

40. In the course of their solicitation of investors, the defendants have knowingly made material misrepresentations and omitted material facts necessary to make other representations not misleading, including, but not limited to the misrepresentations and omissions set forth at paragraphs 21 through 36 above, in violation of Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b), and Regulations 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c).

41. Matthews, directly or indirectly, controlled White Pine and did not act in good faith, or knowingly induced, directly or indirectly, the acts constituting White Pine's violations of Section 4c(b) of the Act and Regulations 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c). Matthews is therefore liable for these violations pursuant to Section 13(b) of the Act, 17 U.S.C. § 13c(b). 42. The foregoing acts, misappropriation of customer funds, misrepresentations, omissions and failures of Matthews and Baere occurred within the scope of Matthews' and Baere's employment or office with White Pine. White Pine is therefore liable for these acts pursuant to Section 2(a)(1)(B) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 2(a)(1)(B). 43. Each act of misappropriation and fraudulent misrepresentation and omission, including but not limited to those specifically alleged herein at paragraphs 21 through 35 above, is alleged as a separate and distinct violation of Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b), and Regulations 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9(a) and (c). COUNT II VIOLATIONS OF SECTION 4c(b) OF THE ACT, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b) AND REGULATION 32.11(a), 17 C.F.R. §32.11(a): OFFER AND SALE OF ILLEGAL OFF-EXCHANGE OPTIONS CONTRACTS 44. Paragraphs 1 through 43 are re-alleged and incorporated herein. 45. During the relevant time period, defendants have solicited and/or accepted orders for, and/or accepted money, securities or property in connection with, the purchase and sale of commodity options when: (i) such transactions have not been conducted or executed on or subject to the rules of a contract market, or a foreign board of trade in violation of Section 4c(b)of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b), and Regulation 32.11(a), 17 C.F.R. § 32.11(a), and (ii) defendants were not appropriate counterparties in transactions with customers who are not eligible contract participants pursuant to Section 2(c)(2)(B)(ii) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 2(c)(2)(B)(ii).

46. Each foreign exchange commodity option transaction solicited and/or executed during the relevant time period, including but not limited to those specifically alleged herein, is alleged as a separate and distinct violation of Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b), and Regulation 32.11(a), 17 C.F.R. § 32.11(a). COUNT III DISGORGEMENT OF FUNDS FROM THE RELIEF DEFENDANT 47. Paragraphs 1 through 46 are re-alleged and incorporated herein. 48. The defendants have engaged in fraudulent solicitation and misappropriation of customer funds. 49. The relief defendant has received funds that were obtained as a result of the defendants' fraudulent conduct. 50. The relief defendant has no legitimate entitlement to or interest in the funds received from the defendants' fraudulent conduct. 51. The relief defendant should be required to disgorge the funds she received from the defendants' fraudulent conduct, or the value of those funds that the relief defendant may have subsequently transferred to third parties. 52. By reason of the foregoing, the relief defendant hold funds in constructive trust for the benefit of White Pine customers who were victimized by defendants' fraudulent scheme. VⅡ. RELIEF REQUESTED Wherefore, the Commission respectfully requests that this Court, as authorized by Section 6c of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 13a-1, and pursuant to its own equitable powers: Find that defendants violated Sections 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6c(b) (2002), A. and Regulations 1.1, 32.9 and 32.11, 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.1, 32.9 and 32.11 (2004);
