RIN 3038-AF09

Revision of Certain Provisions to Incorporate Changes in the Commission's Administrative Structure, Remove Superfluous Verbiage, and Correct Inaccurate Text

AGENCY: Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The agency's Divisions and Offices have been reorganized at the Chairman's direction, and with prior notification to relevant congressional committees. To ensure the CFR reflects these changes, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (Commission or CFTC) is voting to make technical changes to various provisions within its regulations in order to align with its change in administrative structure, remove superfluous verbiage, and correct inaccurate text. In addition to the administrative changes required due to the realignment, the Commission is adopting technical changes to ensure consistency in reference to Commission addresses, delete references to positions that have changed and update the positions to align with the current Commission structure, correct typographical errors, and other technical changes.

DATES: These amendments shall become effective on [INSERT DATE OF PUBLICATION IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER] except for the amendments in §§ 45.15(a), 45.15(a)(4), 45.14(b), 45.15(b)(4), 49.3(e)(2), 40.17(i)(1), 49.17(i)(2), 49.18(e)(1), 49.18(e)(2), and 49.31 which are effective on January 25, 2021.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

An agency reorganization in November 2020 realigned key functions within the agency, including: 1) creating a new Division of Data (DOD) from the data-centric components in the Division of Market Oversight (DMO) and the Office of Data and Technology (ODT); 2) reassigning the Executive Secretariat Branch from the Office of the Executive Director (OED) to the Office of General Counsel (OGC) and renamed OGC the “Legal Division” (LD); and 3) renaming and realigning the Division of Swap Dealer and Intermediary Oversight (DSIO) and the Office of Customer Education and Outreach (OCEO) to the “Market Participants Division” (MPD).

Technology has dramatically altered capital and commodity markets over the past few decades, and technologically induced innovations such as electronic exchanges, high-frequency trading, and exchange-traded funds have made trading faster, cheaper, more integrated, and increasingly complex. As a financial regulator in an ever-increasingly sophisticated market environment, it is becoming more and more crucial that the CFTC focus on data and data reporting and invest in technologies necessary to keep pace with market innovation. Our oversight responsibilities are becoming highly data acquisitive and rely on the effective use of information, including through the use of algorithms and analytics to more effectively manage data to meet our regulatory objectives. The Division of Data was created to address the Commission's growing data needs and to position the agency to continue to achieve its mission in accord with new technologies.

The Division of Swap Dealer and Intermediary Oversight (DSIO) is responsible primarily for overseeing derivatives market intermediaries, including commodity pool operators, commodity trading advisors, futures commission merchants, introducing brokers, major swap participants, retail foreign exchange dealers, and swap dealers, as well as designated self-regulatory organizations. The Office of Consumer Outreach and Education (OCEO) provides education and outreach to all end-users and market participants. Combining DSIO and OCEO into one Division, called the Market Participants Division, streamlines how market participants interact with the agency.

The Commission's legal compliance groups that are responsible for records, Freedom of Information Act, Sunshine Act, privacy, and transparency were divided between the Office of General Counsel and the Executive Secretariat Branch in the Office of the Executive Director. Moving the Executive Secretariat Branch into the Legal Division ensures consistency through streamlining all legal compliance programs into one division.

In addition to the changes required due to the realignment, the Commission proposes technical changes to ensure consistency in reference to addresses, delete references to positions that have changed and update the positions to align with the current Commission structure, correct typographical errors, and other technical changes.

Section 2(a)(12) of the Commodity Exchange Act authorizes the Commission to promulgate such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to govern the operating procedures and conduct of business of the Commission. The Commission is promulgating this rule to reflect changes in its administrative structure and to make conforming technical changes to its regulations.

II. RELATED MATTERS

A. Administrative Procedure Act

The amendments to the Commission’s regulations in this rulemaking do not establish any new substantive or legislative rules, but rather relate to the restructuring of responsibilities within the Commission, including amendments changing the names of divisions and offices that are affected by the realignment and re-delegating authority to newly formed divisions. The amendments to the Commission’s regulations relate solely to agency management, organization, procedure, and practice and provide technical corrections of a minor and administrative nature, such as technical changes to ensure consistency in reference to Commission addresses, delete references to positions that have changed and update the positions to align with the current Commission structure, correct typographical errors, and other similar technical corrections. Therefore, this rulemaking is excepted from the public rulemaking provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act.¹ Additionally, an agency may issue a new rule in some circumstances without publication in the Federal Register of a notice of proposed rulemaking with an opportunity for comment if the agency for “good cause” finds (and incorporates the ¹ 5 U.S.C. 553(a) and (b). Rulemaking procedures apply, except to the extent that there is involved (1) a military or foreign affairs function of the United States; or (2) a matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts.

finding and a brief statement of the reasons therefor in the rules issued) that notice and public procedure thereon are ‘impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.’² As the revisions to the Commission’s regulations in this rulemaking will not cause any party to undertake efforts to comply with the regulations as revised, the Commission has determined to make this rulemaking effective upon publication in the Federal Register.³

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act requires the Commission to consider whether the regulations it adopts will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.⁴ The Commission is obligated to conduct a regulatory flexibility analysis for any rule for which the agency publishes a general notice of proposed rulemaking pursuant to Section 553(b) of the Administrative Procedure Act or any other law.⁵ This rulemaking is excepted from the public rulemaking provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act. Accordingly, the Commission is not required to conduct a regulatory flexibility analysis for this rulemaking.

C. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Commission may not conduct or sponsor, and a respondent is not required to respond to, a collection of information contained in a rulemaking unless the information collection displays a currently valid control number issued by the Office of Management

² 5 U.S.C 553 (b). Further, section 553(d) of the APA, 5 U.S.C. 553(d) provides, in part, that a rule may not be made effective less than 30 except as otherwise provided by the agency for good cause found and published with the rule.

and Budget (OMB) pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Paperwork Reduction Act).⁶ This final rule does not contain a collection of information as defined in the Paperwork Reduction Act and, therefore, is not subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

D. Cost-Benefit Considerations

Section 15 of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended by the Commodity Futures Modernization Act of 2000, provides that before promulgating a regulation under this Act or issuing an order, the Commission shall consider the costs and benefits of the action of the Commission. These rules govern internal agency organization, procedure, and practice, and therefore the Commission finds that none of the considerations enumerated in Section 15(a)(2) of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended, are applicable to these rules.

E. Congressional Review Act

This final rule is not a rule as defined in the Congressional Review Act.⁷

On this matter, Chairman Tarbert and Commissioners Quintenz, Behnam, Stump, and Berkovitz voted in the affirmative. No Commissioner voted in the negative.

Appendix 2—Concurring Statement of Commissioner Dan M. Berkovitz

I concur in issuing the final rule that revises certain provisions of the Commission’s regulations to reflect recent changes to the CFTC’s administrative structure (Final Rule). The Final Rule changes dozens of references to various CFTC divisions and offices and the respective directors thereof, as well as certain addresses of CFTC offices, in accordance with the realignment.

The realignment was undertaken at the Chairman’s direction. Approval of the reorganization itself is not the subject of the Final Rule, and such approval has not otherwise been requested of the Commission.¹ Rather, the Final Rule is necessary to change delegation authorities and reference the appropriate officials or offices for filings, notices, and other correspondence. As a Commissioner, I have a ministerial duty to maintain the accuracy of our regulations and therefore I concur in adoption of the Final Rule.

¹ Accordingly, my approval of the Final Rule should not be viewed as approval of the reorganization itself.
